Gymnastics club move into their new home on Ottery Moor Lane

HONITON Gymnastics Club officially opened its new centre on Saturday after a huge effort to get the facility ready.

After 31 years operating from Honiton Leisure Centre, the not-for-profit gymnastics club – which caters for more than 350 gymnasts each week – has taken the step to operate independently so that it can provide even more opportunities for children in Honiton and the surrounding area. Based on Ottery Moor Lane in the former Rainbow Superstore, Honiton Gymnastics Centre hosts classes for a wide variety of children, from Gym-Crazy Kids and recreational gymnasts right through to competitive gymnasts and elite international performers.

"Today was a hugely significant occasion and something that has been 31 years in the making," said James Reddy, board director and high performance coach.

"We're grateful to everyone that has made today's opening possible – from parents that have given up their time to help clean, paint, clear bushes and build changing rooms to local businesses that have provided transport and equipment, given us discounts on materials and helped in numerous other ways.

"It's been a real community effort to get Honiton Gymnastics Centre ready and it's hugely satisfying to see our gymnasts finally getting to train here."

The new centre is packed with gymnastics equipment, which includes a competition sprung floor area for elite gymnasts, three more gymnastics floors, a carbon-fibre tumble track, and variety of trampettes, springboards and air-filled rebound equipment.

"In the past 10 years the club has grown massively in size," added James, "so when the opportunity arose to have our space we jumped at the chance.

"We're still in the very early stages, but we've already filled all of our classes and have around 100 children on waiting lists.

"We'd like to offer the opportunity for as many children in the area to try gymnastics, and we'll be doing our best to make this happen.

"We still have work to do but the club already feels like home. It's exciting to be able to offer more opportunities for fundamental-level gymnastics and also have somewhere we can develop talent that will hopefully one day represent their country at the World Championships."

The opening day included a barbecue, plus teas, coffees, cakes and other refreshments organised by the club's supporters' association.

It also gave parents the chance to walk around the gymnastics centre and see gymnasts train.

Another reason to celebrate was news that three of the club's gymnasts – Adam Fullick, Kaisha Dessalines-Wright and Valentine Tutchter – have become the club's first gymnasts to make it onto the Circus Arts Degree Course at the National Centre for Circus Arts in London.

The gymnasts – who have competed at world trials, international tournaments and are current British junior and senior champions – start their course in two weeks and used the day as their official farewell.

Clampdown on inconsiderate drivers

DANGEROUS and inconsiderate parking in King Edward Road, Alexandra Road and Widepost Lane could soon be a thing of the past.

Devon County Council has given hope to concerned residents, saying it is finalising draft proposals.

The problem in King Edward Road is parking on a blind bend. Residents have said for some time that it is an accident waiting to happen.

The problem in Alexandra Road and Widepost Lane is inconsiderate parking, which causes obstruction and a potential problem for emergency services vehicles.

The issue is likely to be raised when Axminster Town Council meets on Monday next week.

Axminster mayor and town councillor Paul Hayward said he would welcome and encourage as many as possible of those affected to attend the meeting and raise the problem during open forum.

CREWKERNE

Four injured in A30 ambulance crash

FOUR people were injured as an ambulance rolled onto its side in a crash on the A30, just outside Crewkerne.

Photos from the scene show that the ambulance was significantly damaged after the crash involving a van at about 6pm on Wednesday, August 31st.

Two paramedics from the ambulance and two people driving in the van were taken to Yeovil District Hospital with minor injuries. There was no patient in the ambulance at the time.

The A30 Yeovil Road was closed in both directions between Crewkerne and Haselbury while the scene was cleared.

An investigation is now expected to be launched into what caused the crash.

From the editor's chair Dilemma for carnivalites

THE carnival season is upon us again but this year's East Devon circuit got off to a dismal start when the organisers of Seaton Carnival had to pull the plug on their grand procession due to the foul weather conditions on Saturday.

The organisers will meet tonight (Tuesday) to see if they can find a slot in the carnival calendar to stage the Seaton procession. But this won't be easy – it's Colyton's big night this coming Saturday (September 10th), to be followed by Axminster on September 17th and Sidmouth on September 24th.

The nearest possible date would be Saturday, October 1st but this will clash with Ilminster Carnival and whilst that event is on the South Somerset circuit, it could affect the number of entries at Seaton.

So much time and effort is put in by those who enter the tableaux in our local carnivals, it's always a great disappointment when the weather is unkind.

Those who are members of the bigger carnival clubs put in a huge amount of effort too, attending various processions in the South West right up to Christmas. In doing so, they thrill tens of thousands of people who line the streets to see the spectacular floats.

The decision to call off such a big event is always a headache for the organisers. They have to take into consideration the safety of both those on the floats and those watching. And heavy rain, of course, makes it impossible for the marching groups such as majorettes and bands, to perform.

There is also a financial implication; street collections on procession night brings significant revenues which help to finance all the other events that are held during the carnival weeks.

Seaton Carnival made the correct decision to call off their procession, such were the conditions earlier in the day which would have made it difficult for those entering a float to finish off their entries.

The forecast is not too promising for this coming Saturday but let's hope things improve as the week progresses and Colyton – always a great night out – will be more fortunate and be able to get the East Devon circuit off to a storming – albeit late – start.

SOUTH SOMERSET

Police launch campaign to raise awareness of child exploitation

CHILD sexual exploitation is taking place in Somerset – that's the message police, councils and other partners across Avon and Somerset want to spread as part of a new awareness campaign.

The campaign was launched last week across Somerset to raise awareness of the crime.

Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Mountstevens said: "This campaign aims to help us become better at identifying the children who are being exploited and give them the support they need to cope and recover from their experience."

South West regional co-ordinator for child sexual exploitation, Temporary Detective Inspector Larisa Hunt, said: "We've chosen to place adverts in locations where lots of people will see this powerful message because being aware of this crime is the first step towards spotting and stopping it."

If you know or suspect a child or young person is in immediate danger, you should dial 999 straight away.

OTTERY ST MARY Funding shortfall could see Christmas lights reduced

THE Ottery St Mary Christmas lights display is under threat of being "significantly reduced" this year.

An appeal for help has been made and it is hoped that local individuals and businesses will respond and collectively raise enough money to maintain standards of the festival illuminations.

The reason for the financial shortfall is a drop in membership of the chamber of commerce.

Ottery St Mary Chamber of Commerce chairman Viv Abbott said: "There is a current funding shortfall for this year's town Christmas lights."

"Members of the public can help by putting any small change in any of the numerous collection boxes on the counters of the shops in the town."

If anyone would like to make a donation directly, they can contact chamber of commerce treasurer Graham Harvey on 01404 812001.

SIDMOUTH Concerns of town residents 'ignored' by Knowle developer

NEW images have been released of what the re-development of the Knowle site in Sidmouth could look like, once East Devon District Council has moved its operations elsewhere, could look like.

The district council's move away from Sidmouth to split operations in Exmouth and Honiton was confirmed last year, leaving many members of the public angry with the decision.

People in Sidmouth have raised concerns over the visual impact the site will have on Sidmouth and have also questioned the need for more retirement homes.

It had been thought that the plans would go in front of planning chiefs on September 6th at the Development Management Committee meeting at EDDC but the plans are currently not on the agenda.

SEATON

Wave sculptures lose their shine

AN apparent case of rust and staining has reignited the debate over sculptured waves and pillars in Seaton.

Some critics have said that two new seafront features have already lost their sparkle and could do with a polish, but East Devon District Council (EDDC) says the installation is a success.

The sculptures are located at Fisherman's Gap and were unveiled in July as part of EDDC's wider "hot spot" scheme for key entry points to Seaton and the Jurassic Coast.

The proposal received a lot of publicity on news and letter pages of Pulman's View From Seaton and the debate was recently reignited.

Residents both for and against the sculptures have commented that the creation quickly lost its sparkle, showing signs of rust and staining.

In a joint statement, EDDC and Seaton Jurassic, said: "There is a maintenance plan in place, which is managed by Seaton Jurassic."

"Volunteers and staff at Seaton Jurassic have been complimented by many visitors to the town about how the town seems to be 'on the up'".

My Rob

It was my beautiful brother on the news today,
His beloved life has been taken away,
By a cruel illness, which led him to,
A heart breaking ending to a life which few,
Had understood through torment and pain,
A life, which it now feels, was in vain,
But his light and kindness will forever be,
The legacy that we will always see,
A man with so much love to give,
That despite mistakes we will forgive,
Our Rob, big and bold with a heart of gold,
His spirit we will always hold,
In memories so pure and true,
My Rob, brother, son, father, I will always love you.

Civil War memorabilia to be sold at auction

A COLLECTION of propaganda pamphlets written during the years following the English Civil War are to be sold at Chilcotts September sale.

The fascinating 17th Century documents were discovered by the Chilcotts team among books and papers during a routine house clearance in Exeter.

Auctioneer Duncan Chilcott explained: "Our research uncovered that one of these pamphlets, 'The Kings Cabinet opened: or certain packets of secret letters & papers,' was based on letters written by King Charles I, taken from his campaign chest after the battle of Naseby in June 1645.

"The chest and its incriminating contents were seized by the Parliamentarians including Sir Thomas Fairfax at Naseby Field, which was the scene of the decisive battle of the war."

Much of the content was reproduced and circulated as propaganda by the Parliamentarians in the form of pamphlets.

These, as well as letters and newspaper articles, served to fuel the flames of political machinations across the country.

In one pamphlet is a reprint of the final sermon given by the Archbishop of Canterbury as he awaited execution on the scaffold.

The last sentence, 'Lord raise my soul,' was the agreed signal for the executioner to cut off the Archbishop's head.

Although some of the documents clearly condemn Charles I, others take a different viewpoint such as a pamphlet entitled 'A Defence of the Vindication of King Charles the Martyr' and an essay from 1799 purporting to be an aid to 'attaining a true idea of the character and reign of King Charles the First'.

Duncan added: "Devon didn't escape the turmoil of the Civil War, and although there was an early cessation of hostilities in 1643, the war continued in various areas, including three sieges of Exeter between 1642 and 1646.

"Tiverton was captured by Sir Thomas Fairfax in 1646, and Charles Fort at Salcombe was the very last place in the country held for the king.

"It's interesting that the cities in the region were behind the Parliamentarian cause, whilst the rural community were more in favour of the Royalists – echoes of modern times?"

The collection has been given an estimate of between £150 to £200 and will be sold at the next Chilcotts 'Fine Art, Antiques and Collectors' Items' sale at the Silver Street Sale Room on September 10th.

Viewing is September 8th from 9am - 5pm, September 9th from 9am to 7pm and on sale day from 8.30am. The sale starts at 10.30am.

Choir celebrates its fifth anniversary

A HONITON choir is about to celebrate its fifth birthday. Sweet Honi has gone from strength to strength as a fun community choir, and potential new singers are invited to Sweet Honi's taster session on Monday, September 19th.

Sweet Honi was set up in 2011 by director Andy Hague following his retirement from Richard Huish College in Taunton where he taught Music and Performance Studies and ran several choirs.

Andy said: "After retiring I missed the interaction that teaching brings. I thought that it would be fun to set up a community choir in Honiton; I'd already had lots of experience in composing and arranging as a teacher and also as director of Sidmouth Gospel choir."

Sweet Honi sings rock classics from Motown to medleys of the Beatles and Adele to Green Day.

Andy said: "Singers are always free to suggest favourite songs for me to arrange. What sets Sweet Honi apart from other choirs is the friendly, family atmosphere. New members feel instantly welcome and there is always plenty of help on hand."

Fees have remained static since the choir was set up, with Andy saying: "I'm adamant I don't want anyone to feel that they can't afford to be in Sweet Honi. I think that singing is a necessity, not a luxury."

Currently membership costs £50 per ten-week term. Each rehearsal lasts two hours and coming to the pub afterwards is optional.

Andy explained: "Although sheet music is provided, you don't have to be able to read music notation. All parts are recorded so you can listen to your part and learn by singing along with it.

"Sweet Honi has a reputation for exciting live performances at festivals and in the Beehive, often with a seven-part rock band. And these gigs have raised thousands of pounds for local charities."

If you want to give 'Honi' a try, just turn up at Honiton Methodist Church, off New Street, at 7.30pm on Monday, September 19th.

You will certainly receive a warm welcome and Andy said: "I really believe that the ability to sing is common to us all, across all ages and cultures. Honi contains lots of people who came saying 'I can't sing'.

"What's needed is a supportive environment, a bit of courage and some practice. I really want to get people away from just settling down before the TV. Life is about trying new experiences, meeting new people – and finding your voice."

THIS year's Honiton Hill Rally took place at the brand new location of Smeatharpe Airfield, with the event once again providing fun and entertainment.

Despite the first day being somewhat of a washout, Bank Holiday Monday saw beautiful weather and hundreds of motoring and steam fans flock to the airfield to enjoy everything on display.

The Hill Rally showcased a range of motors including steam engines, stationary engines, cars, motorcycles, tractors, and military vehicles.

Live music was provided as well as demonstrations and trips for the general public on some of their more interesting vehicles.

Dave and Trudy win Beer in Bloom award

HUSBAND and wife team Dave and Trudy Rodger have won the best private gardens award in the annual Beer in Bloom competition.

The judges from Beer Horticultural Society decided that their front garden at their Lebrenza home was the best in that category, beating off strong challenges from Steve Summers in Park Road and Pat Bewick in West Underleys.

"We did win it a few years ago but didn't think the garden looked so good this year, so that's

by Kevin Fahey

a nice surprise," said Trudy.

"Both Dave and I love gardening and grow all our own plants and we do have a colourful front garden."

The prize for the best decorated patio garden went to Peter Bartlett while Vivian Steer won the best courtyard. There were also special awards that went to Pecorama, the Dolphin Hotel, Colebrooke House and the Village Hair Shoppe.

Mike Entwistle

Newcastle to London cycle ride is Mike's toughest challenge yet

MIKE Entwistle had no hesitation in describing his 24-hour cycle ride from Newcastle to London as the toughest challenge of his life.

Mr Entwistle, who lives in Beer, completed the 300 miles, non-stop, through-the-night charity event in a time of 27 hours 14 minutes; an achievement which is set to earn £3,000 for cancer charity Macmillan in tribute to the support they gave his father Warren, who died from cancer just before Christmas.

"The ride was an epic as they say and was probably the toughest thing I have ever done on a bike in terms of time and endurance," said Mike.

Conditions didn't help as Mike and the other cyclists who completed the challenge had to endure rain and what seemed like a constant headwind on the journey south to the capital.

"Out of the 730 who registered, I was one of the 456 who completed the ride, although some of the 456 missed out at least one stage, so it's unclear the total number who actually completed the whole route, more like 350," added Mike.

"Overall, including rest stops, it took me 27 hours 14 mins but my actual 'on-the-road' riding time was 21 hours 25 mins, averaging 24 km/h.

"The weather was definitely not favourable as it rained persistently during the first 45 miles, with showers into the night, and the south-westerly wind made it more of a challenge. Some who had done the event before suggested it was the worst conditions they'd experienced, born out by only a handful of riders who actually broke the 24-hour barrier."

Apart from some understandable stiffness and sore legs Mike made a good recovery from the ride and hasn't ruled out another epic adventure in the future. Thanks for all the messages of support, and specifically, thanks to all those who contributed to around £3,000 of sponsorship," said Mike.

Weigh to go: super-slimmer's win awards!

HONITON slimmer's who lost 16.5st between them have been named 'Woman of the Year' in their Slimming World groups because of their inspiring weight loss and contribution to the groups.

Groups Winners, Emily Miller, Sarah-Jane Bowley, Sue Stokes, Jane Adams and Claire King were voted for by their fellow members for their fantastic weight losses this year.

Around one in four women in the UK and Ireland are severely overweight and at risk of suffering a range of health problems including diabetes, heart disease and cancer. Slimming World's Woman of the Year competition recognises the achievements of women in making long-term healthy lifestyle changes.

Our Winners followed Slimming World's Food Optimising eating plan, which encourages slimmers to fill up on satisfying yet healthy everyday foods like fruit and veg, lean meat and fish, pasta, potatoes, rice, pulses and more without having to weigh or measure. Sarah-Jane says: "My family and friends are all amazed by how much I can eat and lose weight. I still eat many of the same meals that I did before I started losing weight, like spaghetti bolognese, curries and roast dinners. Now I just prepare and cook them differently – and they taste so much better. I've picked up lots of new healthy recipes from the other members at my Slimming World group, too."

Emily says "I know a lot of people worry about joining a slimming club because they don't know what to expect. They needn't be afraid though. Right from the first moment I walked into my Slimming World group I felt at home, and the support and motivation I've received from my Consultant and the rest of the group has been brilliant." "They made me feel so welcome and now I don't know what I was so nervous about – they're like my second family and I look forward to going to Slimming World each week. I definitely don't believe I could have lost all this weight without them."

Jane says "When I started out I never dreamt I'd be able to achieve all that I have. I was blown away that the changes I'd made had such a big impact so quickly. As the weight started to come off and I began moving down dress sizes – I've gone from a size 24 to a size 12 – I started to believe I could actually lose the weight and keep it off. Losing the weight has made such a huge difference – it's changed my life. I've got so much more energy and I can do things now that I couldn't before. My fitness has improved and I enjoy being active now rather than thinking of it as a chore and I'm over the moon as my asthma is so much better now with hardly any problems. I'm more confident and I like the slim, happy, positive person I see in the mirror. I feel like a winner already, so being voted the Honiton Wednesday group's Woman of the Year 2016 is just the icing on the cake."

Sue adds "I tried lots of different diets but they usually left me feeling hungry or miserable – or both, in fact. With Slimming World it's completely different, I never have to miss out and I don't have to get hung up on weighing and measuring everything I eat. I don't feel deprived and after losing 5st 1m the slimmest – and the happiest – I've been in such a long time!"

Claire says: "Sam welcomed with such ease I couldn't wait to start. The plan was so easy all I seemed to do was eat but eat the right foods."

My first weigh in I lost 10lb that week and I'm still on my journey but I know I can do it with the help of my consultant and the group support."

Other plans didn't work for me but Slimming World is simple to follow with no calorie counting confusion. Winning woman of the year isn't just another sticker in book or certificate on my fridge it's another step in the right direction in my life."

Sharon and Sam, who run the groups, say: "I'm so proud of all of these ladies. Not only do they look fabulous, they have improved their health and are bursting with energy. Each of them are a huge inspiration to everyone in our group and I hope they inspire other women – and men – to change their lives in the same way. It can be hard to admit that you need to do something about your weight and to ask for help, but their success shows just what's possible when you do though!"

Groups are held every week in Honiton Tuesdays 3.30pm, 5.30pm and 7.30pm and every Wednesday at 9.30am and 7.30pm

There are also groups in Ottery St Mary Mondays 5.30pm & 7.30pm and Saturday at 9.30am touching hearts, changing lives

Hopes Seaton Carnival Baking event at Peco can be rescheduled

SEATON Carnival Committee will meet today (Tuesday) to see if the event can be rescheduled.

Carnival chairman June Millman said: "It was with a very heavy heart that Seaton Carnival Committee decided to cancel the parade on Saturday night.

"The reason was the very inclement weather.

"With rain and high winds during the day, no-one could foresee when it would stop.

"The forecast had said it would clear by 8pm, but it could not be guaranteed.

"As it turned, out the decision was the right one as it was raining again at 8pm."

The procession managers got together at 4pm to phone all entrants to stop them leaving home.

They had already had messages from carnival clubs in South Brent, Chard and Honiton that they had decided not to chance it.

June added: "Also, it was not fair to expect 12 fancy dress walking entries to parade in the wind and rain.

"With so many phone calls to make it was with regret they missed one of the committee marshals, two local judges and the local town crier, who had invited another crier and escort to join him.

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

"The committee very much apologise to these people and anyone else they may have missed.

"It was too late to stop the Romsey Old Cadets Carnival Band, which arrived at 5pm.

"Like true entertainers they rose to the challenge, dressed in their carnival costumes and played in the Town Hall for the committee and supporters.

"They then decided to march around the town, stopping at all the local pubs, where they surprised the clientele by marching and playing in one door and out the other collecting for carnival charities on the way. A total of £97 was collected at this time.

"Seaton Carnival Committee would like to thank everyone for their support and understanding and for the lovely messages.

"The committee will meet on Tuesday evening to decide if the parade can be re-scheduled."

Carnival week had started well the previous Sunday when the carnival royalty were crowned by auctioneer and TV presenter Graham Barton.

Shute literary festival all set

THE inaugural Shute Festival of Literature and Landscape is to take place on October 29th and 30th.

Held in St Michael's Church and Shute Primary School, the festival brings together a diverse and inspirational group of writers and broadcasters – including documentary makers, historians, poets, travel and garden specialists, and crime and thriller writers.

There will be workshops, film showings, talks, debates and plenty of opportunity for visitors to ask questions, meet the authors and get books signed.

There will also be workshops for children including film-making and activities which will allow them to explore and engage with the surrounding natural beauty, and vegetation of the landscape.

Festival directors Samantha Knights and Paddy Magrane have high hopes for the festival, and the former said: "This is a truly breath-taking landscape."

"We felt it was the perfect spot to bring together inspirational figures from the world of literature and landscape for what we hope will become an annual event."

■ PUTTING ON A FESTIVAL: Paddy Magrane and Samantha Knights

Artisan coffee and assorted cakes and pastries will be served in the morning, while two local chefs will offer up a taste of the Mediterranean, North Africa and Asia for lunch.

One day tickets or reduced weekend passes are available now (children are free but those aged 12 and under must be accompanied by an adult). Profits will go towards Shute Primary School and repairs of the church.

Tickets are available from the festival website (shutefest.org.uk) and from Hurford Stores in Kilminster, and Archway Books in Axminster.

Cadets celebrate 75th anniversary with torch relay across the country

DEVON and Somerset Air Cadets participated in a torch relay from John O'Groats to Land's End to celebrate the national organisation's 75th anniversary.

Formed in 1941, the Air Training Corps is now more commonly known as the Air Cadets.

The torch was passed from Bristol and Gloucester Wing to Devon and Somerset Wing by Air Cadets Ambassador, Honorary Group Captain, Carol Vorderman MBE RAFVR(T), a keen aviator herself.

The torch was relayed to various locations with the first stop being Wells Cathedral.

Next stop was Wookey Hole Caves, where a bewitching experience took place for both the cadets and staff when they were met by the Witch of Wookey.

The next stops in the relay were Norton Manor Camp, Taunton, home of 40 Commando Royal Marines; North Hill Gliding School near Dunkeswell; Britannia Royal Naval College, Dartmouth; and a canoe trip from Exeter along the River Exe.

The final stage of the journey was a handover of the torch to Plymouth and Cornwall Wing which was carried out at Okehampton Camp on Dartmoor – an appropriate venue as Air Cadets use this area for hiking and adventure training.

The Air Training Corps' motto is "venture adventure". Media Communications Officer, Sqn Ldr Dave Rolfe, said: "We were proud to be part of the Air Cadets national torch relay and would like to thank all those that hosted us and made our anniversary such a success."

The Air Training Corps is a national voluntary youth organisation, open to young men and women aged between 12 and 20.

Cadets are not obliged to join the armed forces but many choose to do so.

For further information on the Air Training Corps as an adult volunteer or cadet, contact the Wing Media Officer, Squadron Leader Dave Rolfe on 07789 954708 or visit www.aircadets.org

Fete attracts more than 1,000 to end busy week for Hawkchurch

BANK Holiday Monday's Hawkchurch Village Fete was the culmination of a busy week, writes Anders Larsson.

Fete week had started the previous Monday with a family beetle drive, which was followed by a string of events throughout the week.

Attractions and activities during the week included bingo, a children's disco, a barbecue, a pub quiz and much more.

The fete itself was held on the village football field in warm and dry weather.

Organisers only charge for adults, with 715 passing through the gate.

Including children and stallholders, the event is likely to have attracted more than 1,000 people.

Moving the gull posts

■ I READ with interest in the View from Colyton and Colyford, issue August 30th, that Seaton Jurassic is using Harris hawks to discourage gulls from causing a nuisance and damaging Seaton Jurassic.

Obviously this will also benefit other buildings in the area such as the Tramway, Tesco's, Co-op, and the new Axminster Property [Grove] building. However, when this idea was formulated did anyone wonder what would happen to the gulls dispersed from the area?

It can be no coincidence that Seaton Cricket Club is now the home to over 100 gulls setting on the playing area and outfield, bringing with them the resulting mess and health hazard.

Although no one doubts the importance of Seaton Jurassic to the town, I hope this is not a case of Seagull NIMBYism and that Seaton Town Council and East Devon District Council are working towards a solution to the gull problem which will benefit the whole town.

Sympathetic send-off

■ WOULD it be possible to say to everyone in Seaton a big "thank you" for their support and sympathy after my wife Lesley Kendrick passed away on August 23rd, and to residents and locals after we had a send-off on Friday night at the Hook and Parrot pub, with lanterns and wreaths sent out to sea.

Also a big "thank you" to Devon Air Ambulance who attended.

Any donations will go to the Devon Air Ambulance.

Flying the flag over Seaton – it's a matter of protocols

■ ON the front page of the week before last's edition of Pulman's was an article about the flying of the Union flag in Windsor Gardens. If I may, I would like to comment on that; I write this NOT on behalf of the RBL Seaton, of which I am a member.

Firstly the 'Patriot' who managed to grab the headlines would perhaps be interested in a few facts about the whole issue, lest he run off gathering momentum to mount a petition half-cocked, so to speak.

The flying of Union flags and the protocols referred thereto are in fact under the auspices of the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS), not the local MP nor the College of Arms. It was from there that the guidance was issued.

It used to be the case that in order to fly the Union flag you had to be a designated flag station. In fact the Union flag has never officially been, under law, declared as the flag of the United Kingdom for any use other than by the Military, however it is recognised by tradition as being such. That guidance has now changed (Mr Bowman may be pleased to learn) precisely because of the effect of the Olympics in 2012 – the flying of Union flags is now "encouraged" across all Government buildings and public places.

Some years ago, now, the RBL Seaton Branch undertook to maintain the flagpole, which I, along with one other, have done, washing it at the start of each summer season, replacing the halyards, painting it now three times (incidentally I also give the lamp post and seats a lick of paint as well).

The RBL did not agree to carry out the flag management, although again over the last few years I have advised the various Town Clerks as to the DCMS-published Flag Days each year. Indeed I have, on occasions, raised the Union flag and others when requested. However, although I also may be classed as a 'Patriot' (I suspect that if you cut through me you would not find any blue, probably just red and a mess!); after all, I have spent my life in Crown and Government service, I do not think that the Union flag is the correct one to fly every day.

It is a matter of record that although Seaton is, indeed, within the The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, we have residents and visitors who are not, of course, British.

With that in mind I approached, without recourse to the Press, the elected body of Seaton Town Council six years ago and suggested that we have a Seaton town flag flying from the flag pole for all but Union flag days (interesting to see also in last week's issue that Axminster has done just that). It is on record that I offered to finance the initial purchase of the flag once a design was agreed by our elected representatives: however, should it be the Coat of Arms or would a much more vibrant appearance be preferred, by using the newer and more dynamic Seaton logo that now appears on stickers and shop windows around the town?

With the much-regretted turnover of town clerks, who act as the centre for the elected body, this matter has been let to lie, although it does get mentioned from time to time.

As a matter of note, any flag flown on Windsor Gardens really does take a battering, the wind and salt air have an extremely detrimental effect on any fabric used. I have a few Union flags (purchased from my own pocket) that have only survived six or seven times 'up the pole', so any flag purchased has to be up to the job, and all the flag makers I have approached all say the same – they cannot guarantee how long any flag will last in this environment – so therefore, any flag purchased will have to be the subject of renewal on a regular basis. That will mean a further strain on financial resources, unless a flag pot is established.

The original correspondent will, of course, also know that flags should not be flown overnight unless illuminated (I know, these protocols keep getting in the way!), therefore someone will have to raise the flag at sunrise and lower the flag at sunset – sounds simple but alas it is not. The flag pole in question, being in a non-protected public space, has in the past attracted the attention of a few with nothing better to do than be a nuisance, so the halyard has to be secured out of harms reach. To effect this the pole has to be physically lowered on its mounting or a ladder used to get to it. That involves more protocols (part of being British) as the dreaded Health & Safety comes into play – yes, I carry out a Risk Assessment every time I lower it – ladders are only to be used by those trained and it takes two, more protocols I'm afraid.

I do hope that this helps to clarify and remove any of the apparent misconception in regard to this matter.

I for one await the carefully-considered views of our elected town council.

The UK's First WalkerView Treadmill

The WalkerView is the only treadmill with an embedded PC platform that monitors and records step length, speed, symmetry and the range of motion in hips, knees, ankles, shoulders and all other postural aspects of the gait pattern. All of these functions create a unique system for a complete and accurate gait analysis.

As well as embedded sensors beneath the treadmill belt, it is also equipped with an integrated 3D camera to give instant feedback for analysing movement and posture. A 46 inch monitor positioned at the front of the WalkerView system acts as a digital mirror that provides powerful feedback for controlling posture when in motion. Powerful mirrors that digitalise the users image allow it to rotate for a complete three-dimensional vision of the users gait cycle.

The systems large screen can also provide a training aid allowing the user to immerse themselves into a digital training world with virtual reality games, or follow training videos of sceneries from across the globe. The treadmill can also offer test protocols for gait analysis, posture control and aerobic endurance. Helping with posture and movement for all ages and abilities, whether its sport related or general healthcare.

Laser Therapy

Photobiomodulation is the application of red and near infra-red light over injuries to increase the speed, quality and tensile strength of tissue repair; resolve inflammation and relieve pain.

The effects are photochemical (like photosynthesis in plants). When the correct intensity and treatment times are applied, red and near infrared light reduces oxidative stress and increases ATP. This improves cell metabolism and reduces inflammation.

PBM Therapy appears too good to be true as it does many things, but really it does just one thing very well, reduces oxidative stress. This is accepted as the underlying trigger for most diseases and degenerative conditions. It is also a component in the inflammatory phase of acute and chronic injuries.

It is popularly used for acute and chronic pain on soft tissue injuries, joint conditions such as osteo and rheumatoid arthritis, neuropathic pain, post operation recovery and general body aches.

Anti-Gravity Treadmill

We are the only private clinic in the South West and one of only fifteen private clinics in the UK to offer this therapy to the public.

Engineered by NASA, the Anti-Gravity Treadmill 'unweights' the user by as much as 80% in precise 1% increments allowing them to move at a reduced bodyweight. This accurate, safe and comfortable partial weight-bearing therapy promotes normal gait patterns, unlike hydrotherapy, whilst significantly minimising the impact on joints and muscles to aid a smooth recovery. The system provides a safe and pain-free environment for use in physical therapy sessions at any stage of the rehabilitation process, including:

- Soft tissue injuries
- Post operation rehabilitation
- Weight loss
- Coordination (motor neuron, parkinsons)
- Performance training

Plantar Pressure Analysis

Our system offers analysis of walking and or running over the RS footscan mat. With over 4000 sensors embedded into it we gain in depth analysis of your foot positions, pressure and force distributed during the motion, in both 2D and 3D. The advanced software allows automatic division of the foot into specific regions. This allows force and pressure distribution within these areas to be analysed and associated with certain foot mechanics and functions which may affect the kinetic chain of your gait.

Custom 3D Printed Orthotics

Offering the world's first dynamic 3D printed orthotics as the UK's opening distributor. They are customised to support the every move of an individual from our pressure plate analysis.

It is this 3D print system that gave Paula Radcliffe a come back in 2015 "Without the support of these orthotics, I would have been incapable of recovering this quickly after my operations, this would have probably been the end of my career." 'Paula Radcliffe 2015'

Our custom insoles found their way to the games! 12 athletes using Phits in appeared in Rio. They came from 10 different countries and participated in the marathon, the high jump, basketball, road cycling, badminton and tennis.

AXMINSTER CARNIVAL

SATURDAY 17TH SEPTEMBER 2016

IT'S CARNIVAL TIME IN AXMINSTER ONCE AGAIN! WITH THE PROCESSION TO BE HELD ON SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 17TH AT 8PM

LAST year was a great success and the committee hopes to exceed last year's collection with your help. The collection on carnival night all goes towards local charities.

But don't forget events leading up to the big night. Thursday is quiz night at the Guildhall, so why not come along with a team of four? Entry costs £10 per team and the winners will receive £100, plus 10 prizes for each question with 10 in each section. The bar will also be open. Call Geoff on 07840 268 730 or Jeremy on 07714 295 750 for further details.

On carnival night, car parks in South Street, West Street and at Tesco will all be open but drivers will not be able to leave these until after 9.30pm. This is due to health and safety reasons, for your safety and that of the floats that have to clear the route.

GILLY'S

GILLY'S coffee shop is informal and comfortable. It is an ideal place to meet friends, have a meeting or just relax and read the paper.

They serve the best Italian coffee and the freshest of sandwiches, baguettes and salads. They also have a range of homemade cakes daily.

Gillys range of food is freshly prepared, and business lunches can be ordered and delivered to!

APPLE TREE GALLERIES

LISA Lyman has moved her studio into Apple Tree. She has a wide range of glass bead jewellery and also offers a bespoke jewellery service. If you need jewellery to match an outfit, just bring it in and she can make it to order (with a little notice!). She is happy to restring or re-design broken jewellery. She can also convert most pierced earrings to clip ones too.

We're getting ready for Christmas with so many unique gifts for every budget: from small stocking fillers to special gifts. Many items can be commissioned if ordered soon.

We sell wood; jewellery; glass; textiles; candles; pottery; ceramics; iron-work; art; cards and loads more, all skilfully hand crafted locally. Come and support your local artists and artisans!

WELLS CARPET BROKERS LTD

SINCE 1983, Wells Carpet Brokers have helped customers in the South West save money. We have one of the largest selections of carpets & vinyls in the area and have the all the latest trends too.

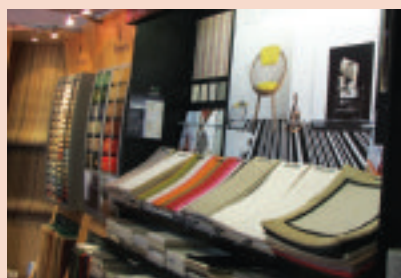

We are able to compete with the large national stores as our overheads are low and we do not inflate our prices to take a discount off. Our prices are genuinely low all year round. So there's no need to wait for the sales either! In most comparisons we do with other stores, on identical products, we will be cheaper.

We deal with all the leading carpet manufacturers including Brintons, Ulster & Cormar using 100% or 80% wool, 20% Nylon but we also have budget man-made ranges including bleach cleanable carpets! We also supply Crucial Trading's Sisal, Coir & Seagrass ranges. These can also be made into any size rug that you can customise with your own choice of borders. So why not come along & design your own rug?

Karndean has become very popular since we started selling it in 1990. Again it is a product in which you can use your own artistic flair & design to create your own unique floor using the available design pieces or just simply lay the wood planks or tiles as they are.

So don't be put off by our smart appearance! We have prices to suit everyone.

FRIENDSHIPS TO QUICKLY BUILD AND ESTABLISH

Honiton Golf Club has been continuously developing over the past 120 years and can be best summarised as a traditional club with strong established ties with its community. Established in 1896, the beautiful mature parkland course is relatively flat providing easy walking but can still be deceptively challenging for the more ambitious player. The club provides a diverse range of both golf and social activities focusing on fun, flexibility and family. Seasonal and themed dining events, discos and live music evenings together with fun golf days are interspersed with the more serious golf competitions and club matches. After golf you can relax in the clubhouse which offers both visitors and members bar and catering facilities throughout the day. We also have limited availability for private parties, Parties, Wakes, Anniversaries, Christmas Parties and the like, our Catering Manager John Golder will be happy to put a menu together to suit most budgets. Our restaurant can comfortably sit up to 80 diners. There is also an optional extra of a dance floor. The golf course is well maintained by a team of professionals, providing a balanced challenge for both the established golfer, but more importantly, is also ideal for a beginner. When golf is not going well, you can still enjoy a lovely flat walk surrounded by beautiful scenery. A state of the art indoor practice facility means you can also try and improve your game, using the latest technology and remain dry at all times! Blessed with two qualified golfing professionals at the club, golfing advice and encouragement is always available. Fancy golf? Come and try it for yourself!

Minster Electrical Contractors

MINSTER Electrical Contractors were established in March 2010 by Craig Stuckey. Starting at the Somerset College of arts and technology taking on a one day a week course working towards his technical qualifications.

Craig then attended local Electrical training centre P and R Hurt in Yeovil to undertake his pre-training for his final practical to become qualified electrician the AM2 exam, and then attended another training centre, Clarkson Evans, in Cheltenham to obtain his NVQ 3 qualification. Artbeat TWELVE talented East Devon artists are coming together for their fourth annual exhibition showing their latest work at Kenway House, Sidmouth. Seven of the artists are from the Sidmouth area: Debbie Coles, Stephanie George, Bente Kumar, Rosemary McFarlane, June Morrell, Susan Paradise and Trixe Walker.

This promises to be an exciting and varied show: June, Debbie and Stephanie are greatly inspired by the local Devon landscape and coastline; Bente's work draws upon her native Denmark for inspiration; Trixe works in oils and acrylics and enjoys capturing scenes from local life; Rosemary's recent work includes dramatic wildlife paintings; and Susan mostly likes to paint people enjoying themselves.

Artbeat is a great opportunity to buy art directly from the artist. As well as original paintings there will be prints, cards and some textiles on sale.

Open daily 10am to 5.30pm beginning on Saturday, September 17th until Sunday, September 25th. Admission is free and there is disabled access.

Seaton Choral Society's Autumn term starts this week

SINGERS of all voices are invited to come and join Seaton Choral Society for the Autumn term. Rehearsals will begin on Wednesday, September 7th at 7.25pm at Seaton Methodist Church Hall, where we shall be preparing our Christmas concert, which is scheduled for Sunday 11th December. The venue for this will be The Gateway, Seaton and our programme will include Schubert's short and beautifully tuneful Mass in G, Vaughan Williams's 'Fantasia on Christmas Carols', the Negro Spirituals from Michael Tippett's 'A Child of Our Time', and a final group of Christmas carols.

The society's aim is to work at and present the great oratorios such as Messiah, as well as programmes of shorter pieces, giving both performers and audiences opportunities of getting to know varied choral music at first hand and to experience the exhilaration of performing it. Our numbers fluctuate between 30 and 50 members; every year new singers join, injecting vi-talinity and inspiring us to try and achieve our best possible levels of performance. There are no auditions; some sight-reading ability is of course an advantage but not essential – newcomers who find it hard at first find they learn (without undue pain!) as they are led along by a core of more experienced singers. Extra individual help is available if requested.

We are fortunate in having Dr Peter Milmer as our musical director. As well as being a fine musician he is a sympathetic teacher, with all the qualities of empathy and leadership that one would expect from a busy G.P. and father of three small children! His wife the soprano Susie Milmer occasionally sings for us – a superb bonus. Our pianist is the excellent accompanist Michèle Banting, who has been with the society since its inception and is well-known as a recital partner to many talented singers and instrumentalists.

Those who would like to give it a try, just come along to the first rehearsal, with no obligation to join.

More details can be found on the website, www.seaton-choralsociety.co.uk or you can ring the Secretary on 01297 24266.

Beer artist Hilary Arnold to exhibit at the Bomb Shelter

HILARY ARNOLD is exhibiting her latest collection - Abstraction - at the unique Bomb Shelter in Beer, from September 10th to 18th.

Hilary has East Devon flowing through her veins, having been born in the same house that she now lives in on the borders of Seaton and Beer, and all her family were, and still are, in East Devon.

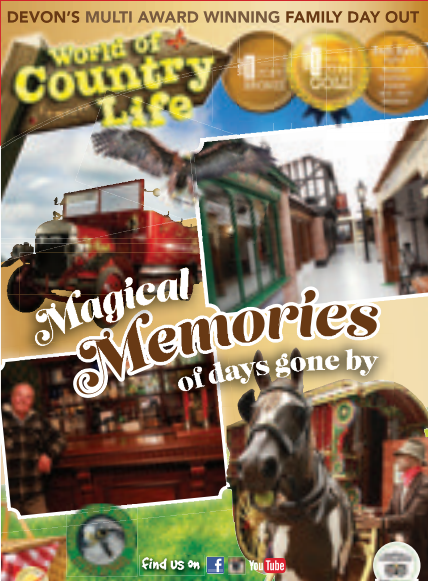

Her schooling was in East Devon but she went away to the smoke to embrace a secretarial career. However art was taking over her soul, and when she was thrown from a bolting horse and broke both arms, making shorthand typing impossible for a while, the die was cast. So she went on to pursue her art, training in fine art at the Bath Academy in Corsham, and her career blossomed whilst also raising a family of three boys.

Now working from her garden studio Hilary uses space, light and colour to convey in abstract form the brilliance of the sea and the East Devon landscape.

Hilary has exhibited in London, Wiltshire and Somerset as well as Devon, and her exhibition in Beer will be the third time that she has shown her work in this local and unique setting. Her most recent work - Abstraction - has attracted the attention of a number of London galleries.

The exhibition runs from Saturday 10th Sept to Sunday 18th Sept, from 10am to 5pm daily, at the Bomb Shelter, Fore Street, Beer. For more details phone 01297 20064 or email hilaryra@aol.com

Folk fest to round-off summer season

Lyme Regis's annual folk festival will this weekend provide a grand finale to the town's summer programme.

Lyme Folk Weekend, now in its fourth year and firmly established as one of the highlights of the summer, features more than 40 acts in nine venues, including the showpiece Marine Theatre concerts.

Three evening shows, hosted by the highly acclaimed Devon folk singer Jim Causley, the festival's patron, will culminate in a brilliant evening of sparkling entertainment from two of the folk scene's most renowned names, Martin and Eliza Carthy.

Eliza, arguably the biggest star in British folk music, is making her first appearance at the festival, and will be joined by her father, folk legend Martin, returning for the first time since 2013.

Also gracing the Marine Theatre stage will be John Kirkpatrick, another legendary figure from British folk. John, a stalwart of the British folk scene for five decades, will be performing his solo show on Saturday night as part of a double bill with the brilliant Dorset duo Ninebarrow, who are rapidly making a big name for themselves with appearances on BBC Radio 2's Folk Show as well as at Cambridge Folk Festival and Sidmouth Folk Week.

The weekend gets off to a brilliant start on Friday with a very special one-off event in the company of Jim Causley and Friends. The show, which was such a success at last year's festival, features a great new nine-strong line-up including The Longest Johns, Nick Wyke and Becki Driscoll and Ninebarrow, in the intimate and atmospheric setting of the Marine Theatre – an evening not to be missed.

The festival's 'second stage' at the Pilot Boat offers great value for three brilliant nights of lively entertainment. You can see three bands each night of the festival - Friday night features local folk band Acoustic Rooster, the brilliant traditional duo Mitchell and Vincent, and festival favourites Patch and the Giant. Saturday starts with local duo Something Old, Something New before the brilliant family trio Emmay and finally the hilarious and riotous Uke-Men League. Then on Sunday there is a welcome return to Lyme for the wonderfully talented Saskia Griffiths-Moore and guitar virtuoso Toby Noble and finally singer-songwriter Pete Aves, who will be performing songs from his new album, See How.

For the first time, the festival will be holding afternoon concerts in the Langmoor Marquee - the critically acclaimed Sunjay (Friday 4pm), the earthy Longest Johns (Friday 5.30pm), the amazing guitarist Nick Edward Harris (Saturday 5.30pm) and then a special treat - festival patron Jim Causley, performing songs from his latest album Forgotten Kingdom with Nick Wyke and Becki Driscoll.

Sunday in the Langmoor Marquee is the venue for one of the festival's highlights - John Kirkpatrick performing his one-man show Songs from the Victorian Farmer, as seen on the popular BBC TV show Victorian Farm (Sunday 4pm).

Rounding things off in the Langmoor Marquee are Hawksdown, a brilliant trio bringing folk music right up to date with their own imaginative style (Sunday 6pm).

There is free music, dancing and poetry on the seafront stage all day, every day from 11am, and performances from JJ Pig, Roots A Capella, Mischa & his Merry Men and Steve Dagleish at the Town Mill.

Ninebarrow

And don't miss your chance to join in - you can take part in the Open Mic Night at the Galley Cafe (Friday 8pm), or join Jim Causley and John Kirkpatrick for their song and tune sessions at the Ship Inn (Saturday and Sunday 1pm), plus there is the opportunity to play and sing in the nightly After-Show Sessions in the Marine Theatre Bar.

If dancing is your thing, then get along to the Lyme Folk Ceilidh, which has been one of the highlights of previous festivals (Saturday 8pm). Take your dancing shoes along to the Langmoor Marquee and trip the night away to the wonderfully lively ceilidh band No Strings Attached and their brilliant caller Richard Gracie - and watch out for a special appearance from the spectacular Steampunk Morris.

Last but not least, this year festival organisers are inviting residents and visitors to take part in the Lyme Folk Weekend Parade (Saturday 11am). The only rule is: you have to be dressed as a pirate! Prizes will be awarded for the best adult and the best child pirate costume - plus the chance to join in with an amazing Sing Like A Pirate workshop in the Langmoor Marquee (Saturday 2pm).

For details and tickets for all the Lyme Folk Weekend events are available online at www.lymefolk.com, from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre in Church Street or by calling 01927 442138.

Local duo India Electric Company come home to play the Beehive

BAND MEMBERS Joseph O Keefe and Cole Stacey now both living in London are looking forward to playing their home turf at The Beehive, Honiton on Saturday, September 10th along with Ergo Schmidt who is also a local musician and supporting them.

For the past 18 months Joe and Cole have been touring Europe and the UK accompanying Midge Ure on his Breathe Again tour and then his latest Something from everything tour. They also enjoyed supporting Hazel O'Connor, they've recently found themselves performing live sessions on BBC Radio 2, 6 Music, and Glastonbury Festival and also racking up four star reviews from all of their album buyers on Amazon, the Telegraph, Songlines, Independent and fellow musicians!

They have released two fabulous albums: On Hire and The girl I left behind me.

Music is very definitely in these boys' DNA; Joseph seems to be a musical wizard playing many instruments all to an exceptional standard. As for Cole, he obviously learnt his guitar skills from his dad, Terry Stacey, well known locally for running open mic sessions, the Acoustic café at The Beehive bar and playing in many local bands as a gigging musician for several years.

India Electric Company play at The Beehive this Saturday, September 10th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10. For more details see the advert on this page.

Comedy Show No.9

Lee Hurst's latest no-nonsense tour comes to Yeovil

LEE HURST, one of Britain's most-loved comedians, is back with an all-new show for 2016.

Having earned his stripes over twenty years ago as a circuit comic and one of the best telly warm-up men in the business, Lee was quickly promoted to being a regular face on comedy panel shows including They Think It's All Over and Have I Got News For You, which is how he became a household name.

Currently, Lee enjoys performing live to audiences all over the country, and has a reputation for being a master of his craft, who can artfully control any crowd. His combined quick wit, sharp observation and easy manner make an evening in Lee's company a fun night out, which is why Lee's fans are a dedicated bunch.

This tour will be Lee's ninth full-length comedy show. It is a show jam-packed with laughs. So it is simply called 'Comedy Show No. 9.'

Lee's style of comedy is funny stories, quality gags and side-splitting observations. There are no gimmicks. There is no over-arching narrative journey or message.

This is one man, a mic and his mind. The show is simple. The content is hilarious. The audience turn up. Everyone laughs. Everyone goes home happy. Easy.

That's why the show has a no-nonsense title. Lee Hurst is a no-nonsense comedian whose sole purpose is to make audiences laugh.

The tour kicks off at Yeovil Octagon Theatre on Thursday, September 8th. Tickets are £16.50, available online at www.octagon-theatre.co.uk or by calling 01935 422884.

5 TIPS FOR AN EXTERIOR MAKEOVER

1. If your home has a painted exterior, it won't stay looking good forever because the weather will take its toll. The easiest way to give the exterior a new look is to paint it a different colour, using a high-quality masonry paint. Even if you're happy with the existing colour, repainting it can work wonders. Discoloured, peeling and patchy paint isn't pretty or practical, and can lead to damage that's expensive to repair.

By Julia Gray, Press Association

ern-looking properties, wooden cladding (or faux wooden cladding) can work well, especially on the front.

4. Another good way to improve the front of your home, especially if it's plain and lacking character, is to add a porch. The porch should, of course, be in keeping with the style of the building and needn't be elaborate - a small roof and something to hold up the roof may suffice. Changing the windows and front door, or replacing an unsightly porch, can also make a big difference to the look of your home. If it's a period property with ugly modern windows, for example, fitting period-style windows will transform the exterior, and interior, and probably make it warmer and quieter too.

5. Before you start changing the exterior, find out if there are any restrictions on what you can and can't do. Listed buildings usually can't be altered without obtaining listed building consent from the local council, for example. If you live on 'designated land', which includes conservation areas, you may not be able to do what you want with your home's exterior, or you may need planning permission, especially if your home's permitted development rights have been removed. Click on the porch, external walls, windows, etc, on the Interactive House at www.planningportal.co.uk to find out more.

2. While you can rarely be as adventurous with the colours you use on the outside of your home as the inside, you don't necessarily have to stick to white, cream or magnolia. However, you do need to consider what will go with your neighbours' houses, if there are any restrictions (such as planning ones) on the colours you can use, and what suits the style and period of the building.

3. Having the exterior of your home rendered can really smarten it up, even if it's just the front. Coloured renders are available, so if you find a colour you like, you won't need to paint the render, saving time, effort and money. With mod-

PRODUCTS OF THE WEEK

The weather's nice at the moment, but this summer's been pretty rainy, making it hard to get exterior painting done, especially using slow-drying oil-based paints. However, Dulux Trade Weathershield Quick Dry Exterior Satin in Pure Brilliant White (£49.63 for 2.5ltr, B&Q) makes it possible to protect exterior woodwork and get a good finish in no time. It's water based and dries extremely quickly (often in minutes), so if you have to dodge showers, you can, but it still provides six years of protection against the elements and covers extremely well, unlike many water-based white wood paints. If you're painting previously painted woodwork, use Dulux

Trade Weathershield Quick Dry Exterior Undercoat (£45.63 for 2.5ltr, B&Q) first, which also dries quickly and covers really well.

HOW-TO TIP

A quick way to paint pebbledash is with a (deep-pile) roller, but you'll also have to go over it with a paintbrush to cover all the bits the roller has missed - you'll need to work the brush in well, so don't use a good one. If you just use a brush, you can cover all the pebbledash in one go, but it will be time consuming. Painting brickwork is similar - the roller will cover the faces of the bricks, but the mortar between the bricks will usually have to be done with a paintbrush, so it will take a while.

Kia reveals all-new Rio ahead of Paris Motor Show Premiere

THE all-new, fourth-generation Kia Rio will make its world premiere on 29 September in Paris, at the 2016 Mondial de l'Automobile. With a progressive new exterior and interior design, the Rio is revealed for the first time globally today through an exclusive set of images.

Design of the new Rio was led by Kia's design centres in Germany and California, in close collaboration with the company's global design headquarters in Namyang, Korea. The appearance of the new Rio is defined by straight lines and smooth surfacing, giving the car a distinctive, confident new look.

Progressive exterior design

At the front, the Rio wears the latest evolution of Kia's 'tiger-nose' grille, now thinner in height and wider across the front of the car. Integrated bi-function projection headlamps – again, thinner and more sculpted than those of its predecessor – project a new U-shaped LED light signature. Changes to the front of the car, including moving the fog lamps' position outwards within the front bumper, are designed to add greater visual width for a more stable overall look. The new Rio grows by 5mm in width (to 1,725mm), further adding to this effect.

In profile, the fourth-generation Rio's lengthened, more balanced stance is achieved with a long bonnet and longer front overhang, a 10 mm longer wheelbase (up to 2,580 mm), a thinner, more upright C-pillar, and a shorter rear overhang. Overall, the new car is 15mm longer than its predecessor (now 4,065mm long), and 5mm lower in height (to 1,450mm). Straight, clearly-defined lines run down the full length of the car's shoulder and along its doors, further stretching the appearance of the car for a more stable, confident look.

The rear section of the Rio is now more upright, with a near-vertical rear windscreen and a shorter overhang. The straight line that runs from the grille, through the headlamps and along the top of the doors, continues around the back of the car, paired with thinner, more sculpted rear lamps, which now feature a new arrow-shaped LED light signature. Like the wider-looking 'face' of the car, the rear design of the new Rio gives it a stronger overall appearance.

Modern, driver-oriented cabin

The new Kia Rio will offer motorists a modern new cabin design, featuring sculptural forms and a more ergonomic layout than its predecessor.

Like the exterior, straight lines running the width of the dashboard characterise the shape of the interior, giving the cabin a wider appearance and increasing the sense of space for occupants.

The dashboard itself is now angled towards the driver, and at its center is a new infotainment system, a 'floating' HMI (human-machine interface), with a high-resolution touchscreen to power the Rio's audio, navigation and new connectivity systems. The new HMI has allowed Kia to reduce the number of buttons on the center console.

The new Rio is available with a choice of black or grey cloth seat upholstery, or with black or grey faux leather. A 'Red Pack' for the Rio gives buyers black with red faux leather-trimmed seats throughout the cabin. The cabin itself features gloss black and metallic trim throughout, for a more modern finish.

Production starts at the end of 2016

The all-new Rio will offer buyers class-leading practicality and safety technology, the latest connectivity features, and more assured and engaging ride and handling characteristics.

The Kia Rio is the Korean manufacturer's best-selling model globally, with more than 473,000 sold around the world in 2015. The next generation will enter production towards the end of 2016 for the UK, with production timings for other regions to be announced closer to launch.

Kia at the 2016 Paris Motor Show

Kia's 2016 Mondial de l'Automobile press conference will start at 14:45 CET on 29 September. Kia's stand will be located in Hall 3 of the Paris Expo Porte de Versailles.

The new Mercedes-AMG GLC 43 4MATIC Coupé

MERCEDES-AMG is once again extending its product portfolio with the addition of a very dynamic model: the new GLC 43 4MATIC Coupé* combines a sporty, elegant design with the brand's hallmark Driving Performance and the advantages of an SUV in terms of seating position, interior flexibility and also traction off the beaten track. The 270 kW (367 hp) 3.0-litre V6 biturbo engine, the automatic transmission 9G-TRONIC with shortened shift times and the AMG Performance 4MATIC all-wheel drive configured with a rear bias form the basis for an especially dynamic on-road driving experience. A significant contribution is also made here by the independent sports suspension based on the multi-chamber air suspension system AIR BODY CONTROL with adaptive damping adjustment. Additionally, the GLC 43 4MATIC Coupé also enables occasional off-road excursions to be undertaken: the ground clearance can be increased at the touch of a button, and the pneumatic all-round self-levelling ensures a constant vehicle level at all times.

"The new GLC 43 4MATIC Coupé is characterised by a high level of agility and sporty driving dynamics. With its expressive design and high everyday practicality the Coupé is able to appeal to new target audiences," according to Tobias Moers, Chairman of the Board of Management of Mercedes-AMG GmbH.

The SUV Coupé fulfils a very wide variety of tasks with style: the unmistakable design stands out from the crowd without being overpowering, the sports car-like performance reveals the Coupé to be a thoroughbred performance car, and the convenience settings selectable at the touch of a button make it a reliable companion whatever the conditions. The GLC 43 4MATIC Coupé accelerates from rest to 100 km/h in 4.9 seconds and its speed is electronically governed at 250 km/h.

* Fuel consumption, combined: 8.4 l/100 km, combined CO2 emissions: 192 g/km

ON hot bank holiday Monday AVR's Graham and Diane Newton ran the Lustleigh Fair 10k race, a multi-terrain run on Dartmoor.

The race starts at the village fairground, and runs up and down hilly lanes, muddy tracks and through the beautiful woodland alongside the River Bovey before heading back to the show ground to be cheered on to the finish line by the many spectators.

Misfiring Millwey Rise made to pay

Lyme Regis Reserves 2
Millwey Rise 0
FOOTBALL EXPRESS CUP ROUND TWO

MILLWEY RISE' failure to take some good chances in the first-half came back to haunt them as they crashed out of the Football Express Cup at the Davey Fort on Saturday.

A cagey opening quarter-hour saw few chances created. The first came to Rise striker Levi Hoole who nipped in front of Lyme's onrushing stand-in keeper Ryan Turner but, with the goal gaping, rushed his shot and curled it wide.

Chances were still few and far between for the hosts, but Millwey went close again in the 37th minute when Tyler Warren's hooked volley came back off the inside of the post and rolled along the line before being cleared.

Just before the interval Hoole had another chance when he burst clean through only to be denied by a brave stop by Turner who was standing in for Will Meech who damaged a finger in mid-week training.

The second half saw the Seaside, playing in an unfamiliar 3-5-2 formation, improve but it wasn't until the hour that they finally began to carve out some chances.

In the 65th minute Rise keeper Nathan Hoole, who had an otherwise very steady game in greasy conditions, sliced his clearance but Julien Simier's goal bound back heel was blocked.

The deadlock was broken a minute later when Simier jinked his way to the byline before cutting the ball back for skipper Alex Rowe who gleefully slammed the ball home.

The killer second goal arrived 10 minutes from time when Rowe picked Ryan Fifer lurking on the right flank with a clever ball and the striker skipped past his marker before crossing for Simier to calmly slot home.

Axminster Town 3rds 3
Lapford Reserves 1
A MISTIMED pass in the greasy conditions allowed visiting Lapford, boosted by the driving wind, to take the lead in the sixth minute.

After the interval the Tigers, now with elements in their favour took control.

Michael Knight lobbed the keeper to level things up before netting his second. Adam Whitehouse completed the scoring and Ax had their three points.

Right back Chris Nicholl was selected as MoM with Luis Pinto also in good form.

Match card error boosts Barrow's boys

HONITON with John Pawley

ON a Bank Holiday Monday afternoon 36 members played in the annual Mixed Green-some Walker Cup.

The welcome return greeting the Northover's were given and the conditions obviously suited Linda and John as they came in with a great score of 46pts to win the trophy, but only on count-back from Sharon & David Rouse.

Peter & Heather Clarke came third on 45. Bill & Olwen Eaton and Mike Watts & Linda McLaughlin both carded 25.

On Friday with 55 Seniors entered the September stableford qualifying tournament, where nine golfers managed to score par or better.

There was a similar finish in Division Two, where Mike Dawson held sway with a two under par round recording 38 points. This was until Bryan Frost went one better, and then Nick George finally triumphed with 40 points.

Results: Division One - 1st Edmundo Paolini

39pts, 2nd George Wallace 37, 3rd Danny Dowell 37.

Division Two - 1st Nick George 40, 2nd Bryan Frost 39, 3rd Mike Dawson 38.

Late try hurts youthful Chard line-up

Teignmouth 20 Chard 7

South West Division One

A CONVERTED try in the final few minutes of the game denied Chard a losing bonus point which their efforts on Saturday deserved.

The home team were better overall and did enough to get the points, but a very young and inexperienced Chard team played with enthusiasm throughout.

Since the end of last season Chard have lost the services of several of their most experienced players due to retirement or injury, but there is clearly an opportunity now for several of last year's successful colts team to make their mark at senior level.

In the set piece scrums Luke Aplin and Dave Biss played really well but Chard struggled in the lineup without the services of a regular thrower in their team.

Teignmouth led by 13-7 at the interval thanks to two tries and a penalty goal and Chard had responded with a try from Aplin converted by Jon Humphrey.

The second half was well contested but play was somewhat fragmented because of so many passes from both sides going to ground. The difficult conditions made the handling tricky.

In the dying minutes of the game Chard had a player sent to the bin for an infringement and the hosts successfully used their well oiled tactic of kicking for the corners to gain ground and to then drive over from the resultant lineup.

This third try was a bit of a killer blow for Chard as it denied them getting anything from the game.

The younger players can only learn by playing at senior level and, despite the loss, came out of the game with credit.

Next Saturday the 1st xv are at home to THORNBURY (3pm kick off).

Chard 2nds 32 Midsomer Norton 3rds 5

Somerset Division two South

WITH a few notable exceptions, were a very young outfit with 12 of their squad being under the age of 20.

Despite several last minute call ups to the 1st xv, the 2nds, now coached and managed by Duncan Nicholls, were a well organised outfit.

Chard dominated territorially and never looked in much trouble throughout against a somewhat 'mature' Norton team.

George Read at 10 ran things well and put Chard ahead after ten minutes with a penalty goal.

Rhys Carnell scored the opening try after 25 minutes and with Read adding the conversion Chard had a 10-0 lead.

The heavy rain made handling really difficult but Midsomer Norton pulled a try back late in the first half, but the half time score of 10-5 did not in any way reflect the pattern of play.

In the second half Chard totally dominated and got their just rewards with further tries from Murray Squire (2) and Ross Colenso with Read adding two more conversions and a penalty.

This was an encouraging win for the Chard team with the experienced heads of Brian Sugar, James Herbert and Paul Wright doing their bit to bring on the young players.

Next Saturday the 2nd xv are away at WINScombe (3pm ko).
